Project Description

Our project is to design an application to assist young adults that have recently moved into the Seattle area to meet other like-minded people and to create friend groups. The storyboard is of a user who recently moved to Seattle for college but hasn't had made many friends yet.

User is in bed, bored and lonely.

User is looking out the window, pondering on things to do.

User calls a friend, to hangout.

Friend does not pick up.

User thinks of downloading an app (Seattle Social) to find other people.

User searches for the application in order to download it.

User uses the app to text someone they met on their bed.

User video calls the person that they met on the app to schedule a meetup.

User loves their apartment to meetup with the new friend.

User and their new friend meetup and enjoy their time together!
